Hewlett Packard Enterprise Introduction - Transcript

A robust cybersecurity program strengthens customer trust in the company and bolsters our reputation in the marketplace.

You play an important part in keeping Hewlett Packard Enterprise secure.

Because cyber criminals often target people, your awareness and good security habits are just as important as the technical safeguards we have in place.

We encourage you to take this course seriously as part of your job responsibilities, but we've also designed it to be an entertaining experience.

Enjoy the training!
